20	Hydrating Eye Cream has different types of “alcohol” listed in the ingredients. Aren’t alcohol ingredients harsh, especially for a product around the eye area?	Ethanol, or ethyl alcohol, is commonly referred to as simply “alcohol”. When applied to the skin at a high concentration, ethanol can have harsh effects and is often associated with dryness and stinging. The term “alcohol” can also refer to a category of ingredients that have a specific structural component. Many ingredients that are classified as alcohols are widely used in skincare formulations, including moisturisers and cleansers. They function as emulsifiers, thickeners and lubricants to help stabilise a formula, generate foam, or provide a soft smooth appearance to the skin. Consumers can rest assured that all the Herbalife SKIN products, including Hydrating Eye Cream are ethanol-free	UK	EMEA
